David Lawrason

From a very old property located on the crest of a plateau in the Cotes de Franc, this traditionally made blend of merlot and cab franc shows a lifted, rustic nose with twiggy, leather, tobacco and redcurrant fruit. Great presence. It is medium bodied, very bright, firm and intense on the palate with iron-like minerality. Excellent length. Tasted Sept 2018

It's a merlot dominated blend but at this early stage you should not expect a big hug and in fact with respect to the vintage I'd suggest the most patience possible. There is this distinct smoky smoulder and two-pepper note, first bell and then capsicum. A sourness pervades, as does an earthy, nearly gamy sensation., It's complex as anything and will be oh so interesting when the tisane and compost kick in. Will need to be your cup of tea. 2020-2028. Tasted August 2018.

Rather weedy and volatile, with hard acids and a hard edge on the palate. Drink now. Tasted August 2018.
